

Toolijooa Nursery

1st Year Nursery Apprentice

Toolijooa Nursery specialises in the collection & propagation of provenance native seed & cuttings throughout the Sydney Basin & beyond.

We are looking to employ a nursery hand to work at our native plant nursery in West Hoxton, NSW, 2171.

About the Role

We're seeking a 1st Year Nursery Apprentice to join our team and complete a nationally recognised qualification (Certificate III in Nursery Operations or similar). You'll work alongside experienced horticulturists, learning all aspects of nursery production, propagation, and plant care in a supportive, practical environment

What you'll do:

- Seed sowing, propagation, and potting
- Maintain nursery stock (weeding, feeding, pruning)
- Assist with nursery operations and general maintenance
- Follow WHS, environmental, and workplace procedures

What we're looking for:

- Strong interest in plants and horticulture
- Willingness to learn and work outdoors
- Reliable, punctual, and safety-focused
- Good communication
- Friendly and respectful attitude
- Excellent attention to detail
- Punctual
- Comfortable with repetitive work and can stand for extended periods
- Willing to work in all weather conditions

What we offer:

- Full-time apprenticeship (38 hours/week)
- Pay under the Nursery Award 2020 + 12% super
- Structured training with on-the-job mentoring
- Early finishes on Fridays

Toolijooa Nursery

Hours:

7:00am–3:30pm (Mon–Thu) | 7:00am–1:00pm (Fri)

If you're keen to build a career in the nursery industry and love working with plants, we'd love to hear from you.
